

PLAYING LIKE A GIRL: THE HOUSE THAT ROB BUILT
PLAYINGLIKEAGIRL.COM

MEGAN HARRINGTON

Director-Producer-Writer

A former Lady Griz, Harrington grew up in Missoula, Montana playing under Rob Selvig. She is currently a Senior Producer at Family Theater Productions and her passion is telling inspiring true stories that showcase the true, good, and beautiful. Her other Producer-Writer credits include PRAY: THE STORY OF PATRICK PEYTON, THE DATING PROJECT, and NATIVE BALL: LEGACY OF A TRAILBLAZER.

Megan Harrington is a Senior Producer, overseeing the management of production on various films. She is responsible for budget, staffing and talent, including casting, scripting and logistics. She's served as producer-writer on "PRAY: The Story of Patrick Peyton," "The Dating Project," and "The House That Rob Built." Other credits include producer on "Isaac Hecker and the Journey of Catholic America," executive producer on "Unplanned," production supervisor on "Irreplaceable" and production coordinator on "2016: Obama's America." Before joining Family Theater Productions, she worked as a contractor for Mpower Pictures and Paulist Productions. Harrington received an MBA and Bachelor's degree in Communication Studies at the University of Montana. She is a member of the Daughters of St. Paul Christmas Concert Committee and Chapter Leader of the Father Peyton Guild in Santa Monica.